

Office of Legislative Counsel

Journal

Tuesday - 10 February 1959

1. Advised Mrs. Landers in Mr. Leahy's office (State Department) that we had been unable to develop information on the organization which she had questioned us about (see Journal of 4 February). However, she was advised that there was information of a derogatory nature concerning the Secretary General of this organization. This information related to his character and not to political philosophy.

2. Talked with Frank Schroeder on the staff of the Senate Immigration Subcommittee. Schroeder had contacted Mr. Piersheimer on behalf of a

25X1A [redacted]
25X1A [redacted] who was interested in Agency employment. An appointment was made
25X1A for [redacted] to see our Personnel people at 10 a.m. on 11 February.

3. Met with Captain Gray to return the McElroy-Twining transcripts. I took the opportunity to point out a number of points which were not technically correct and could have contributed in considerable degree to the apparent misunderstanding and confusion of some of the Senators present since this theme was carried forward into the CIA appearance before the Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee and the Space Committee on 4 February 1959. Captain Gray was very pleased to have these comments and had made appropriate notes. The page numbers on which comments were offered are as follows: 10, 13, 15, 101, 126, 127, 191, 204 and 14. I requested Captain Gray to make the transcript available for a further study. He said he thought this could be arranged and in turn asked could their office review the CIA transcript before the two committees on 4 February 1959.

4. In attempting to contact staff members of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee or the Space Committee, I learned that at present there is no scheduled time for [redacted] to be in Washington. I will keep in touch with the staff members on this.

5. The Director and Legislative Counsel met with Representative Paul J. Kilday (D., Tex.) and Mr. Robert Smart for approximately a half hour to discuss the new Subcommittee and the scope of the review which it intends to conduct. See Memorandum for the Record.
